Position available – Articling Student

Arbutus Law Group LLP (“ALG”) is seeking an articling student for a 12-month term, including completion of PLTC. Start date is flexible. Position can be full-time or part-time, and we will consider applications for shared articles. We are essentially a virtual firm, so work hours and location are flexible. The student will likely be working from home, with remote access to our server.

The successful applicant may be considered for an Associate position with the firm upon being called to the British Columbia bar.

Eligibility Criteria

- completion of at least one law school course in Aboriginal or Indigenous Law
- demonstrated passion and commitment to improving the lives of Indigenous peoples in Canada
- eligible to become a member of the Law Society of British Columbia upon completion of articles
- ability to work independently
- strong work ethic
- ability to manage workload and meet deadlines
- strong analytical and critical thinking skills
- excellent research and drafting skills
- excellent verbal and written communication skills
- ability to work collaboratively as part of a team
- preference will be given to graduates of the JD/JID program
- preference will be given to Indigenous students
